"Camelo Castillo's book is an ambitious attempt to elucidate the continuities of the abiotic and biotic worlds, from particles and atoms to multicellular organisms and minds, human and languaged minds included. It is adventurous and rewarding."-Antonio Damasio..... This investigation is the pursuit of human nature through deep time. It traces the roots of universal evolution to see what humanity has in common with quarks, atoms, bacteria and apes. The result is a state of the art fusion of the complexity and the cognitive sciences that shows how the physical history of emergence in our universe can inform us about how we got here and who we are.
