Nobody Cries at Bingo Dawn Dumont

The narrator, Dawn, in Nobody Cries at Bingo invites the reader to witness first hand Dumont family life on the Okanese First Nation. Beyond the stereotypes and clichés of Rez dogs, drinking, and bingos, the story of a girl who loved to read begins to unfold. It is her hopes, dreams, and indomitable humour that lay bear the beauty and love within her family. It is her unerring eye that reveals the great bond of family expressed in the actions and affections of her sisters, aunties, uncles, brothers, cousins, nieces, nephews, and ultimately her ancestors. Life on the Rez is all here in rich technicolour as Dawn emerges fro home life through school life, and into the promise of a great future. The story embraces cultural differences and does it with the great traditional medicine of laughter.
